

The Bee

BY INDUSTRY WE THRIVE.

NINETEENTH YEAR.

EARLINGTON, HOPKINS COUNTY, KY., THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 26, 1908.

No. 48

EARLINGTON TO THE FRONT

Home Talent will Supply Delightful and Entertaining Program for Educational Meeting.

WHIRLWIND CAMPAIGN WILL REACH
EARLINGTON SUNDAY DECEMBER 6TH.

Large Chorus of Earlington Public School Children Will Sing Patriotic Songs.

KLUB KENTUCK ORCHESTRA TO CONTRIBUTE ITS BEST SELECTIONS.

Mrs. Jas. R. Rash Will Sing Solo—Mrs. W. K. Nisbet is Pianist—Short Talk by Local Speaker.

Dr. Geo. J. Ramsey, one of Kentucky's Foremost Educators Will Deliver the Address.

An informal meeting has held Tuesday night by a number of Earlington citizens who are interested in our school and particularly in the welfare of our children, with a view to making some suitable preparation for Earlington to take a creditable part in the "Whirlwind Campaign for Education in Kentucky", which is to be inaugurated next Saturday and will, during the week to follow, reach every county in the State.

This campaign in Kentucky has been inaugurated by J. G. Crabbe, Superintendent of Public Instruction for Kentucky and twenty-five men have volunteered to go through the State and talk to the people. Dr. Geo. J. Ramsey, of Danville, Ky., one of the foremost educators of Kentucky and a member of the faculty of Central University, has been assigned to speak at Earlington Sunday, November 6th and the decision is to have the meeting here in the afternoon.

The Tuesday night meeting was presided over by Mayor Jas. R. Rash, and after discussion and the decision as to time and place of meeting, a committee was appointed to arrange program and take full charge of arrangement for the occasion, which it is designed to make one of enjoyable entertainment as well as an opportunity to hear some excellent talks, and all for the good of our children.

There will be no admission charge and no collection will be taken up. The entertainment will be absolutely free and the best seats in the Temple Theatre which is reserved for the gathering, will be free and will be given to those who get to the theater in time to secure them.

There will be a special musical program, which is being arranged by the committee, in which large chorus of school children will take special part. Mrs. Jas. R. Rash who is recognized as Earlington's sweetest singer has agreed to render a solo. The Klub Kentuck Orchestra will be there and give its best efforts to the success of the entertainment. Mrs. W. K. Nisbet is the pianist for the occasion and will be assisted in accompaniment by Mr. Bassett Elgin, violin, and Mr. Thomas P. Wand, cornet.

The committee on program and arrangements is composed of Paul M. Moore, Chairman, R. Y. Maxey, F. B. Arnold, Frank D. Rash, Miss Mary Mothershead, Mrs. W. K. Nisbet.

Dr. Ramsey will be introduced by Mr. R. Y. Maxey, principal of the Earlington Graded and High School.

Further details of the program will be announced when the committee has completed their arrangements.

L. & N. SHOPS ON FULL TIME.

Orders Placed for 500 Gondolas, 12 Passenger Coaches and 12 Locomotives.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 23.—For the first time since the panic overtook the country more than a year ago, the shops of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company in South Louisville present an appearance of great activity. The shops are now back on practically full time, with a full complement of men in the various departments. The few departments that are still working on reduced time will probably be on full time within a few weeks. The resumption of work is due to an order placed recently for 500 gondola cars, twelve passenger coaches and twelve locomotives. Work has already begun on the order.

While the equipment is not needed at present, the improvement in business along the lines of the company has been pronounced, and the officials of the company have decided to prepare for a rush of traffic with the advent of the new year.

Eckelkamp-McGrath.

A wedding of interest to many friends was that of Miss Sarah McGrath and Mr. George Eckelkamp, last Wednesday morning at St. Joseph's Church, at 5:30 o'clock, Rev. Father P. J. Gleeson officiating and Miss Margaret Burns presiding at the organ, directing an artistic musical programme. The attendants were the bride's sister, Mrs. T. F. McGinn, who was matron of honor, and Mr. John Ryan, who served as best man.

The bride was very attractive in an olive green cloth tailored suit with a hat to match, trimmed with willow plumes. She carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums. The matron of honor wore a gray tailored gown, with a gray hat trimmed with black wings, and she carried a prayer book. After the ceremony the bridal party and relatives were entertained at a wedding breakfast at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Julia McGrath, on McGavock street, where the young couple will make their home. The table was decorated with a large bouquet of white chrysanthemums in the center.

The groom is a son of B. N. Eckelkamp, who with his sister, Mrs. Earl Samuels, were among the guests at the breakfast. A number of handsome wedding gifts were received.

The bride is a great favorite with her associates. Mr. Eckelkamp is also exceedingly popular and especially so with his fellow-workers in the Banner composing room, who accompanied a wedding gift of a handsome leather couch and a china water set.

The above account of the wedding of Miss Sallie McGrath, who formerly lived in this city and who has many friends who will read this with interest.

John B. Atkinson, Earlington; Prof. J. K. Patterson, Prof. C. J. Norwood, Lexington; W. D. McElhinney, Central City; W. G. Duncan, Georgetown.

Why Should We Plant Trees?

1. Because they purify the air. The leaves inhale Carbonic Acid Gas and exhale Oxygen so necessary to life.
2. They cool the atmosphere in summer and radiate heat in winter.
3. They protect the pavement the heat of the sun.
4. They improve property.
5. They make farming possible in many regions, and prevent droughts everywhere.
6. They furnish food by bearing fruits and nuts.
7. They are of commercial value.
8. They add beauty to the landscape.
9. They are the most helpful friends of man.
10. They are a comfort and a joy forever.

Farmer, Here's What President

Roosevelt Wants To Know.

(Louisville Herald.)

1. Have you a good, warm house? Have your neighbors the same?
2. When your boys and girls start down the road to school these mornings, are you sure they are being educated so that they will be satisfied with farm life?
3. Do you and your neighbors get as much for produce as you are entitled to?
4. How do the railroad men and the trolley line men treat you?
5. Is your telephone service all right? Have you any kicks on the mail man?
6. Do your wife and you chip in with the neighbors on buying and selling deal?
7. What about that fellow in your neighborhood that rents his farm? Is he making a go of it?
8. Is it hard to find farm hands?
9. How's your hired man? Happy? Does he "sit in" with the family? Isn't there something all farmers could do to make the hired man happier?
10. Do you and your neighbors know the banker, and can you borrow money in a pinch?
11. How's your barnyard? Clean? Are your neighbors' yards clean? What do the farmers think of a neighbor who keeps a dirty yard?
12. And your wife? Does she ever go out? Does she ever meet the women of the neighborhood? Is there any society at all in your community?
13. What is the thing that would make the greatest improvement in country life?

"LONG HOUSE" OF RED MEN.

Great Council of Kentucky Pass Resolution Favor of National Headquarters.

Interesting developments in the much-talked-of project of the Long House for Louisville, the proposed building to be erected there, to become permanent headquarters for the National Order of Red Men. The Great Council of Kentucky has unanimously adopted resolutions setting forth that the members of the Great Council of Kentucky have been acting in good faith in the Long House matter.

The resolution further states that the Great Council is about to levy a per capita tax upon the members for the purpose of assisting in building the Long House and with the object in view of carrying the project to a successful termination. A meeting of the Great Council of the State and officials of the Commercial Club was called for Wednesday afternoon at the Commercial Club and the Long House question was taken up at length.

WEATHER BOOTH IS NOVEL.

"Meteorological Kiosk" to Benefit the Public—Twenty to be Placed in Southern Cities.

Washington, Nov. 23.—A "meteorological kiosk," or automatic weather station, has been erected in this city. It is one of twenty ordered by the weather bureau for the principal cities of the South.

This boothlike innovation shows on its four sides a barometer to forecast storms or fair

KY. PRESS ASSOCIATION PROVIDE FOR INVITATION.

Midwinter Business Meeting to be Held at Seelbach Hotel December 27.

Louisville, Ky., 22.—The Committee on Arrangements for the midwinter meeting of the Kentucky Press Association, at the call of the chairman R. W. Brown, met yesterday in a preliminary discussion of program and general arrangements.

E. D. Shinnick, of Shelbyville, and Harry Sommers, of Elizabethtown, are the other two members of this committee, while December 29 is the date set for the midwinter meeting, which is to be held in the red room at the Seelbach Hotel.

There will be two sessions, one in the afternoon and one in the evening.

The committee provided for invitations to be sent out to representatives of the Kentucky press and to those whom they desire to take places upon the program for the two meetings.

East End Card Club.

The East End Card Club was entertained on last Friday by Mrs. W. H. Kline. Four tables were at the service of the players. Misses Nell Carlin, VanArsdale, Riley and Foard and Mrs. H. W. Rogers were guests of the Club. The tallies were little water colors, each one different and in its way a work of art. They represented Thanksgiving scenes and were much admired. After a number of exciting games a salad course was served. Mrs. W. E. Daves and Miss Carrie Crenshaw were the champions.

A Pleasant Affair.

Mr. and Mrs. George Atkinson entertained at five hundred on last Thursday evening. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rash, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Kline, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Daves, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Rogers, Dr. and Mrs. W. K. Nisbet, Misses VanArsdale, Riley, Willis, Moore, Carrie and Lucy Crenshaw, Mesdames, N. E. McKinnon, Delia Southworth, Messrs. Paul Moore, Jas. Crenshaw, Whipple, Lowe and Southworth. The Refreshments were delicious and suggestive to Thanksgiving.

Miss Francis Moore won every game which is certainly an almost unprecedented honor.

Want a New Depot.

The citizens of Hopkinsville are signing a petition to President Milton H. Smith, of the Louisville and Nashville railroad, urgently requesting that a new passenger depot be erected by the company in that city, for which, it is represented, there is immediate and pressing need. It is set forth that the business of the division from Henderson to Nashville is more profitable than that of any like mileage in the whole system, except on the main stem from Louisville to Nashville.

DELEGATES FROM KENTUCKY NAMED TO MINING CONGRESS.

Gov. Wilson Announces Names of Prominent Kentucky Mining Men.

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 21.—Gov. Wilson today appointed the following delegates to represent Kentucky at the American mining Congress to be held at Pittsburgh.

John B. Atkinson, Earlington; Prof. J. K. Patterson, Prof. C. J. Norwood, Lexington; W. D. McElhinney, Central City; W. G. Duncan, Georgetown.

BRYAN'S ADVISERS GIVE HIM HOT AIR.

Was a Candidate Because "Others Said" He Might Strengthen the Party.

Jackson, Miss., Nov. 21.—William J. Bryan, in a letter to Gov. Noel concerning his future ambitions, reiterated his former statements, and in reference to Senatorial honors said:

"I note what you say in regard to the Senate. We do not elect for two years yet, and I am not sure that I will be a candidate. I prefer to do my work as a private citizen."

"Even the Presidency was not attractive to me, except as it offered an opportunity to participate in the securing of reforms, and I was a candidate only because it seemed to me from what others said, that I might be able to strengthen the party."

No Opposition to Judge Henson.

Morganfield, Ky., Nov. 21.—The Democratic Committee of the Fifth Judicial District met in this city and declared Judge J. W. Hanson the nominee of the Democratic party for the office of circuit Judge. This makes Judge Henson the nominee of his party without further proceedings. His name will appear on ballots, however, so that he will be selected by votes of constituent.

Invited to Paducah.

An invitation has been extended to Mr. M. C. Rankin, State Commissioner of Agriculture, for the Kentucky Farmers Institute to meet in Paducah. The selection will be made Nov. 30, and the institute is to be held in February. If the meeting is held there a fight will be made to locate one of the branch experimental stations in that city.

Thanksgiving.

The gobble, gobble that has been music in the air all over the land for the past weeks has ceased. Yesterday many a proud handsome Turkey gave up its like to tickle the palate of man. Thousands of these choice birds were sacrificed that we might eat, drink and be merry around the festive board. For these, and thousands of other good things we have much to be thankful for. To the Giver of life and sustenance we should today set apart at least an hour in which to return thanks.

Locomotive Blasts

Chas. Brewster was on the interurban run Friday and Saturday, relieving Roy Smith.

Charles Doyle, who has been a conductor on this division for some time, will move his family to Paducah where he has a position with the I. C. R. R.

J. L. Stout, attorney for the L. & N., was in the city Saturday for a few hours.

Clarence Drake, who is working for the Terminal Co., at Nashville, is visiting relatives in the city.

E. Bramwell, claim agent of the L. & N., with headquarters at Nashville, Tenn., spent Tuesday in the city with his son, Will.

The L. and N. R. R. Co., has put on two water trains a day between here and Slaughter'sville where the

Every Day in the Week

Anderson PAYS RAIL-ROAD FARES

On Purchases at Hopkinsville

Local Happenings

Mrs. W. A. Randolph has been ill the past week.

Miss Mabel Browning has been at home this week with an abscessed tooth.

A party of young people attended the ball game at Madisonville this afternoon.

Col. R. W. Wood has had lumber hauled for a new bridge west of the livery stables.

Mrs. Blanche Lane, who has been quite ill at the Denton Hotel for two weeks, is reported better.

The public school is having vacation today and tomorrow, much to the delight of the youngsters.

Miss Eugenia Trabern, who has been ill at the hospital for some time, will soon be able to be out again.

Mrs. E. R. McEuen returned home Monday from Evansville where she has been in the hospital for the past five weeks.

Willie Cannon, who is dangerously ill of typhoid fever is slightly better and some hope is held out for his recovery.

The St. Bernard offices has been equipped with new chairs, and they with the rest of the improvements make a fine show.

A letter from Rev. J. D. Fraser, who is now located in Louisville, states that he is very well pleased with his new home.

Tom Stone is having his stable covered. Mr. Stone will also have some inside work done making this a first-class livery stable.

The Klub Kentuck Cornet Band have received twenty new pieces and the people of Earlington will soon hear some late band music.

Bob Priest and Dan Donabue spent Tuesday in McLean county hunting, and report lots of birds, but the wind was too high to get many.

Mrs. M. B. Long, who has been quite sick at her home on Main st., is reported some better. Ed Long, who is also sick, will be able to be out in a few days.

C. L. Low states that the account of his marriage in Nashville, Tenn. Sunday, that appeared in the Tennessean of Tuesday, 24, is false and without any foundation.

Married, at Clarksville, Tenn., on last Friday, Mr. Will Smith and Miss Rosa Egloff. Both parties are from this city and their friends wish them much success and happiness through life.

The ladies' aid society of the Methodist church, with the League, and the Rose Juvenile aid will give a bazaar in December. The time and place will be announced in next week's Bee.

J. H. Corbett and E. S. Cunningham will shortly open up in Providence a first-class pool room and billiard parlor, having secured permission from the city council of that city Friday night.

M. B. Long, the progressive owner of the Bon Ton Bakery, will soon have his store floor laid in tiling. This will be quite an improvement, but Mike is always ready to do anything that will improve things.

The street leading to the mines is being covered with rock screenings. This street is kept in good condition and has more heavy hauling over it than any street in the city. Col. W. W. Wood in supervising the work.

Mike Long says that the best way to use a potato poultice for sore throat is to do as his wife did last week, when Mrs. John Twyman made one for Mrs. Long who is suffering with throat trouble, eat the poultice.

Bryan Hopper, of Hopkinsville, for years was manager of the Bernard drug store, was in the Tuesday. Mr. Hopper has been a healthful person for years and is in good condition.

In the past.

The Moving Throng

Mrs. F. D. Rash spent yesterday in Evansville.

Mrs. O. C. Cansler was in Madisonville Friday.

Geo. King, of St. Charles, was in the city Saturday.

Mrs. Harry Corey visited in Madisonville Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dulin spent Sunday in the city.

Ben Salmon, of Ilesley, spent yesterday in the city.

Gilbert King, of St. Charles, was in the city Tuesday.

Mrs. N. E. McKinnon was in the county seat Friday.

Mrs. W. H. Leahy was in Madisonville Wednesday.

Miss Mabel Browning spent Saturday in Madisonville.

Miss Vi Howell, of the country, is visiting here this week.

Miss Mary O'Brien is in Hopkinsville visiting relatives.

R. M. Salmon and wife, of Ilesley, were in the city Friday.

Mrs. Douglas O'Brien was in Madisonville Saturday.

Mrs. Dan Donahue visited friends in Madisonville Tuesday.

Harry Withers was in Madisonville Saturday on business.

Steve Mothershead spent Sunday in the city with his parents.

Mrs. F. I. Croft made a business trip to Madisonville Friday.

Mrs. D. E. Lynn paid friends in Henderson a visit last week.

F. G. Payne made a business trip to the county seat Saturday.

Mrs. Cam L. Ashby made friends a visit in Madisonville Friday.

Miss Hattie Ashby of Madisonville, was in the city Sunday.

Buck Shaver made friends in Madisonville a visit Saturday.

Mrs. Jno. Twyman spent Tuesday in the county seat with friends.

Mrs. Sisk, mother of Miss Blanch, spent Friday in the county seat.

Henry Harris and daughter made a trip to Madisonville Saturday.

Mrs. George Wines, of St. Charles, was in the city shopping Friday.

Mrs. Clarence Keown left Saturday to visit relatives in Hartford.

Miss Effie Coffman, of Slaughters, was in our city shopping Monday.

Mrs. B. B. Hackney and children, of Howell, are visiting in the city.

Miss Amelia Price of Madisonville, visited relatives here Sunday.

C. M. Guy and B. T. Robinson, of Mortons Gap, was in the city Friday.

Mrs. Thos. Sutton, of Hopkinsville, visited the family of Iley Lane Sunday.

Will Nisbet, of Clarksville, Tenn., spent Saturday in the city with friends.

Rice Bowles and family returned home yesterday from a visit to Crofton.

Mrs. Orlean Emmett, of the Southard country, was shopping in town Tuesday.

Major F. B. Harris, of Mortons Gap, was in the city Tuesday on business.

D. D. Woodruff, of St. Charles, was in the city Saturday enroute to Henderson.

Mrs. John Sharp and daughter Ethel spent Friday with friends in Madisonville.

Miss Ada Toombs is now visiting her sister Mrs. Henry Byrum, who lives at Nebo.

C. B. Finley, of Atponley, Tenn., is visiting the family of Jno. B. Atkinson this week.

Miss E. Brämwell, of St. Charles, spent a few days last week with Mrs. Joe Brinkley.

David Adams, our popular merchants spent Tuesday in the county seat on business.

Mrs. Arthur Barnett left yesterday for Elkhorn to visit her sister, Mrs. John Longstaff.

Mrs. W. D. Orr, of Madisonville, spent a few days last week in the city with her mother.

Mrs. R. E. Brooks left last night for a ten day's visit to relatives in Fulton and Paducah.

Misses Mary, Aloisia and Irma O'Brien returned from a visit to Nashville last week.

Dan M. Evans, cashier for the St. Bernard Mining Co., left Tuesday, for Battle Creek, Mich. He will recuperate in a

Mrs. Frank Johnson, of Louisville, is the guest of her son, Dr. C. B. Johnson, this week.

Mesdames D. M. Evans and F. B. Arnold visited Mrs. Jno. Robinson at Nortonville last week.

Mrs. Barnett and her daughter, Mrs. Bud Meachem, spent Sunday with relatives at Kelly's Station.

Miss Ethel Hutcheson, of Henderson, visited her brother, Chester Hutcheson, a few days this week.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Orrell, of Clarksville, Tenn., visited their sister, Mrs. A. O. Davidson, last week.

Mrs. Harriet Browning and Misses Mabel Browning and Elizabeth Kemp were in Madisonville Saturday.

Jake Groves, who has been working in Herrin, Ill., for the past year is visiting relatives in the city this week.

Miss Ruth Wyatt is home from Hopkinsville where she has been attending college for the past three months.

Mrs. Frank Lagg and Mrs. Jno. Reeder, of Marion, was shopping in our city the latter part of last week.

E. C. Brandon, who is studying dentistry at Vanderbilt University, is spending Thanksgiving here with his parents.

Mesdames Fannie Stokes and Kate Withers attended the meeting of the Daughters Confederacy at Madisonville Saturday.

BOYS.

Every boy who wishes to earn some spending money for Christmas should apply to Roy J. Peyton at once for particulars. Boys under ten need not apply.

Al G. Field Minstrels.

The flower spectacle in the first part of the Al G. Field Greater Minstrels this season is one of the twentieth century wonders of stage craft. To be accurate Mr. Field, who is somewhat of a botanist, made a study of those flowers which change their colors, and in his conservatory scene the illuminating of the blossoms and the changing of the colors is exactly what the flowers do in the wild. The minstrel magnate calls it his fairy flower scene. One of the beds of flowers is the mutable phlox.

At sunrise it is blue, and the afternoon it is pink. The bed to the right of the stage is hibiscus mutabilis. It goes through three changes in a day, from white in the morning to rose at noon and to red at sunset. The bed along the back near the electric fountain, is the lantana, which is yellow one day, orange the next and red the third. Its changes are slow. The other flowers in Mr. Field's stage hot house include the cheiranthus chamomel, that shifts from white to yellow and from yellow to red; the gladiolus versicolor that's brown in the morning and blue in the evening, and the colaea that moves slowly from greenish white to a deep yellow. All these plants and flowers are electrically articulated and it is the first time in the history of a big production that anyone has insisted upon such accuracy in scenic accessories as Mr. Field has in this particular instance.

The Al G. Field Minstrels will appear at the Morton Theatre, Madisonville for one night on November 28th.

Derivation of "Sheeny."

The word "Sheeny," as applied in an opprobrious way to Jews, is by some identified with the word "Chien," which is French for "dog." But others identify this word with "Shien," the initial letter in "Shekinah," which makes the original application of the term an honorable one.

Monorail Wheelbarrow.

A monorail wheelbarrow has been invented which will travel on railway rails, and is intended to be used in yards where there are many tracks.

A Diamond

on your finger or in your scarf or on your shirt front will raise your social and business standing.

It will be an open letter of credit.

A diamond suggests prosperity.

It stands for success.

It represents financial responsibility.

Its constant influence will draw big dividends and it can be converted into cash at any time.

You will be safe in buying from us.

M. H. Tappan,
Optician

THE HIGH ART STORE

ESTAB STROUSE & BROS 1869

MEMBERS RETAIL
MERCHANTS ASSN

Thanksgiving Wear At The High Art Store.

Our showing of High Art Cloth ing for men young men and boys for Thanksgiving and holiday wear abounds in the newest fabrics, original patterns, colorings and styles and are sure to appeal to people of taste of culture of standing. They are our own products from our own workshops and sold in a retail way direct to the trade, saving our patrons the jobbers and middle man profits, besides we have the fare refund plans.

Men's Suits and Overcoats $10 to $40.

Boys' Suits and Overcoats $2.50 to $15.

We are Showing Holiday styles in men and boys Hats, Caps, Shoes, Neckwear, Shirts, Underwear, Fancy Hosiery, Vests Gloves.

IT PAYS TO TRADE HERE.
STROUSE & BRO.

For a Quick Buyer

I offer one or all of four splendid one hundred horse power tubular boilers, practically good new, not a blemish. Two of them been in use less than eighteen months. Removed to put in much larger water tube boilers. The boilers have four inch tubes and are government test, carrying 125 pounds pressure. Will sell at a great bargain but must be taken at once. Flush fronts, not a patch or blemish, should be good for twenty years service with good care. Address quick or 'phone if in market.

J. J. Metcalfe, Princeton, Kentucky.

Slaton & O'Bryan Bros.

Furniture Dealers.

We keep in stock a full line of furniture at prices that are right.

Funeral Directors.

Coffins and Caskets in any finish. Any kind of trimmings.

Embalmers.

We are licensed embalmers and can give the best of service.

Madisonville, - - - Kentucky.

Don't Read This

Unless you are looking for something new in Cut Glass, Carving sets or Silver Services. A new line just arrived. I am awaiting your inspection.

Charles Truempy
...Jeweler...

Food is more tasteful, healthful and nutritious when raised with

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

The only baking powder made from Royal Grape Cream of Tartar

Made from Grapes

Absolutely PURE

"HARVEST HOME" THEY CALLED IT

Old English Thanksgiving, of Which Ours Is an Offspring, Began Thousands of Years Ago.

The American Thanksgiving day is without doubt the offspring of that feast which in England is known as "Harvest Home," and in Scotland is called "Mell Supper." But the giving of thanks to some god at the close of the autumn season for the fruits of the earth is ageless, and can be traced back as far as civilization goes. In Exodus the Israelites are commanded to keep an autumnal feast, more explicit details for such a feast being given in the Book of Leviticus. The feast was to last seven days, and on the first day the people were to gather boughs of cedars and willows of the brooks. It may be from this custom that the present day decoration of churches with greens and vegetables arose.

Herodotus mentions this autumn custom of thanksgiving, and Homer writes that "cakes and lumps of dough thrown at the head of the sacrificial victim formed a part of the Greek offerings to Apollo, the sun-god, at the feast of the ingathering."

In ancient times Apollo received the honors of the harvest festival, but the rustics sacrificed to Vacuna, the goddess. Images of Vacuna were made of straw, wheat, barley and rye, and were carried about with singing and cheering. Even now in England images made of straw crowned with flowers are occasionally carried about and called Ceres—the goddess of agriculture. Apollo was formerly worshiped in Britain, and the May-pole is a pretty relic of those days. They decorated it with garlands to welcome the northward coming of Apollo—the sun—at whose appearance the flowers and fruit began to grow.

Various customs, all containing the same idea, have prevailed in different countries. In Scotland, when the reapers have finished their work, a small package of corn, called the "Corn Lady," is hung up in the house. The ancient Egyptians offered sacrifices and made offerings of corn and wine to Leith, the mother of the sun. Wheat, according to both sacred and secular history, was the most important grain grown in Egypt, and the mode of harvesting it is interesting. Instead of the usual method the reapers cut the straw just below the ear of corn. It was carried in bags to the threshing floor, where it was trodden out by oxen. Sometimes the wheat was reaped in the usual way and bound up in sheaves, but oxen were always employed to separate the wheat from the straw.

What is known as "the shouting of the churn," comes down from the time when Apollo was worshiped in England. The churn or korn means a ring or circle formed by several persons holding hands. The word churning also signifies a chaplet worn around the head or carried suspended on a pole in procession. So "the shouting of the churn" means the merriment that always accompanied wearing a chaplet or dancing in a circle.

Another old custom is the "kemp-

COLORED COLUMN

S. R. DRIVER, EDITOR

Revival services closed at the A. M. E. Zion church Sunday night.

It is impossible to publish the news from the Mt. Zion Baptist church unless it is reported to us.

The night school taught by Prof. Bell is well attended.

Prof. J. Wesley Smith, the famous music teacher is again with us.

George Amos is very sick with pneumonia.

W. M. Drake is confined to the home with tonsilitis.

Mrs. Garfield Osborne, is confined to the house with fever.

Mrs. Geo. Maddox's little girl, is confined to her home with fever.

Joe Williamson's little son is confined with severe bronchial troubles.

Quite a number of ladies will visit Mrs. Eugene Moore this week.

Ed Killebrew, who has been quite sick, has recovered.

Wm. Hancock attend the funeral of his aunt, Mrs. Viney Anderson.

Mrs. Ida Fort made a flying visit to Evansville last week.

Prof. J. W. Bell and wife visited in Hopkinsville Sunday.

Walker Stoner spent a few days in Christian county hunting this week.

Mrs. S. R. Driver is confined to the house with a sore foot.

Mrs. Geo. Latham and sister, of St. Charles, visited Mr. and Mrs. George Nuby last Sunday.

HECLA.

Geo. Qualls is very sick with the fever.

Mrs. Mary Leavell, of Wheatecroft, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Qualls.

Mrs. Sallie Eaves spent Sunday with Mrs. Sallie Qualls.

Bessie Eaves who has been here at work, will leave for his home in Indianapolis Sunday.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Moses Gadis last Saturday night a boy. Mother and child doing well.

Another old custom is the "kemp-

Desperate Coughs

Dangerous coughs. Extremely perilous coughs. Coughs that rasp and tear the throat and lungs. Coughs that shake the whole body. You need a regular medicine, a doctor's medicine, for such a cough. Ask your doctor about Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

We publish our formulas
We banish alcohol from our medicines
We urge you to consult your doctor

Ayer's

Any good doctor will tell you that a medicine like Ayer's Cherry Pectoral cannot do its best work if the bowels are constipated. Ask your doctor if he knows anything better than Ayer's Pills for correcting this sluggishness of the liver.

Made by the J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

have been found and developed since 1865. The enormously valuable deposits of copper in Montana have all been discovered and developed since 1865. Michigan's, though known before then, have also been mainly developed inside of 40 years. So have the great iron deposits of Michigan, the zinc deposits of Missouri and countless beds of mineral wealth of all sorts in the south and in the almost boundless trans-Mississippi regions.

Secretary Seward knew that there was almost fabulous treasure under the surface of what was called Russian America when he bought it from the czar's government, but the gold and silver and other mineral wealth of Alaska has practically all been found and developed within the last ten years. In 40 years the addition from mineral sources alone to the wealth of the country has amounted to billions on the back of billions.

Petroleum was discovered before 1865, and the development of territory which yielded it was begun 40 years ago, but by far the greater part of that development has been accomplished since then.

Along with all these things the area of cultivated land has been increased so that the wheat and corn and cotton and other crops of the present are enormously larger than they were in 1865. Manufactures of all sorts have increased enormously also, the total for 1865 being worth rather more than two billions of dollars; this year the total value of our manufactures will not be far from fifteen billions of dollars, roughly estimating the figures from the census of 1900.

Stimulated by the extension and development of the railroads, and in turn stimulating their development, intimately interlocked and interdependent with the growth of mining, agriculture and manufacturing, there has been an unbelievable growth of cities and towns.

And, as Uncle Sam, after a rich good dinner of turkey and pumpkin pie and other standard Yankee viands, contemplates the tremendous advance in his settlements have made he may also dwell in thought upon the fact that the total of the country's population has grown from about 33,500,000 in 1865, to more than 80,000,000 in 1900.

Now these material good things are all well worth being grateful for; no other people on the green earth have so many reasons of the sort for thankfulness as the Americans.

Thanksgiving Day.

The Fates benign
Have given us in joy & disease.
To Womanhood I raise this glass—
Let every lover toast his lass!

In newest wit and oldest wine!
God bless our sweethearts, yours and mine!
I loneliness why longer pine?
Be wed ere next shall overpass Thanksgiving day!

Now pledge me this, good fellows nine,
When round our board the love lights shine,
We'll send one backward thought, alas!
To Bachelors! Unhappy class!
And drink one toast to "Auld Lang Syne."
—Ernest Neal Lyons, in Sunday Magazine.

Thankfulness as a Necessity.

"In everything give thanks" is not only a righteous demand which God makes upon us, but, like all his other commands, it sets before us a necessity of our own nature. For, until we learn to give thanks in everything we cannot be properly thankful for anything, we cannot have full confidence in God and cannot love him in such a way as to enjoy fellowship with him.

Labor and Love.

Thanksgiving and thanksgiving to be genuine must embody the Nazarene's life, labor and love. The natural man needs to be educated into selfless living, self-sacrificing, doing good to others first, being loyally altruistic; then, and not till then, shall the world be brought to thankfulness and blessedness.

Love's Flame Still Bright.

A septuagenarian inmate of Chelmsford, Essex (England), workhouse has proposed to a fellow inmate nine years her junior, and the pair are leaving the institution to get married.

WHEN you catch on to the fact that we're offering you the best clothes ever shown in this town, you'll be surprised that you have neglected the opportunity so long. Every Hart, Schaffner & Marx suit and overcoat in the store is a good catch; and you'll realize it as soon as you see them.

We've got some of the finest things here that you ever saw. They are suits made especially for us and for you.

It makes very little difference about the price you want to pay. We have a suit to fit you and also your price.

We show some of the smartest styles in overcoats, every overcoat a new one, the newest and best ideas of the season in both fabric and models. Nobody in the whole country offers such values as we do in suits and overcoats.

Copyright 1908 by Hart, Schaffner & Marx

Every Dollar You Pay Here Gets Value

BARNES, COWAND & COMPANY

INCORPORATED

Earlington's - New - Store

The Bee

PAUL M. MOORE,
EDITOR AND PUBLISHER
THOMAS WAND
BUSINESS MANAGER

Telephone 47

Subscription Rates
One Year.....	$1.00
Six months.....	50
Three months.....	25
Single copies.....	5
Specimen copies mailed free on application. Correspondents wanted in all parts of the county. Address us for particulars.

Thursday, November 26, 1908

WITH THE MINES AND MINERS.

Dan Griffin, who has been crippled for the past two months, is now able to resume his duties at No. 11 mine.

Alaska has already given the geologists unmistakable signs of having large areas containing tin, and in one case particularly tin ore has been found in large quantities, but owing to the inaccessibility of the district, as yet, it has been impossible to exploit the find to any extent. It cost three lives to discover the mine, and the difficulties of the climate prevented any other exploring parties from going there. Tin was first discovered in the Seward Peninsula in 1900 and was known as "stream tin." In 1907 the Government Geological Survey sent its experts to the country and they found that the country had valuable tin deposits which could be worked with commercial profit.

Where Our Silver Goes.

China and India remain the leading customers of the silver mines, but both these Asiatic lands have greatly curtailed their purchases in the past couple of years. Just now the bazaars of India are perhaps the leading consumers of silver in the entire world. India's absorption of silver has been one of the strange occurrences of the past century. Silver flows to the land of the Hindu and disappears, just as gold at the rate of over $400,000,000 a year is now being swallowed up by mankind.

Hard times and panics have no influence apparently upon the yellow metal nor the ability of the world to devour it, but they affect the white just as they do the red and gray metals. Silver like copper and iron has become largely a thing of ordinary commerce instead of a money medium. But since it is chiefly used in the arts and sciences, silver's value fluctuates rapidly as do other commodities when the demand increases or falls suddenly. That is why a general business depression hurts the price of silver just as it does the value of copper and iron.

MINERAL PRODUCTS OF THE UNITED STATES.

Statistics Compiled by the United States Geological Survey.

The growth of the mineral industries of the United States is graphically exhibited by a chart just issued by the Geological Survey, tabulating for each year of the last decade the quantity and value of the output of our metallic and nonmetallic mineral products.

This chart shows that in 1898 the domestic production of the metals—pig iron, silver, gold, copper, lead, zinc, quicksilver, aluminum, antimony, nickel and platinum—had a total value of $805,482,183; in the same year the total value of the other mineral products amounted to $418,790,671; the grand total for the country in 1898 was therefore $724,272,854. Ten years later, at the close of the calendar year 1907, the value of the metals had increased to $903,024,005, that of the other products to $1,166,265,191, and the grand total was $2,069,289,186.

The chart has great interest and value in connection with a summary of the mineral production of the country published by the Survey as an advance chapter from "Mineral Resources of the United States, Calendar Year 1907," and copies of both the chart and the summary may be obtained by applying to the Director of the Survey at Washington D. C. The Survey has also published for free distribution separate chapter of its annual report on the mineral resources of the country, giving detailed statistics of many of the products that make up these totals.

NOW IS BEST TIME TO TAKE.

Directions to Prepare a Simple Home Mixture.

A well-known authority on Rheumatism gives the following valuable, though simple and harmless prescription, which any one can easily prepare at home:

Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargone, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces.

Mix by shaking well in a bottle, and take a teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime.

He states that the ingredients can be obtained from any good prescription pharmacy at small cost, and, being of valuable extraction, are harmless to take.

This pleasant mixture, if taken regularly for a few days, is said to overcome almost any case of Rheumatism. The pain and swelling, if any, diminishes with each dose, until permanent results are obtained, without injuring the stomach. While there are many so-called Rheumatism remedies, patent medicine, etc., some of which do give relief, few really give permanent results, and the above will, no doubt, be greatly appreciated by many sufferers here at this time.

Inquiry at the drug stores of this neighborhood elicits the information that these drugs are harmless and can be bought separately, or the druggists here will mix the prescription for our readers if asked to.

His New Schedule.

"Mister William," said the old Georgia darky, "ef you'll gimme a beaver, an' a long-tail coat, an' a standin' collar, an' dem ol' shoes what you use ter see de snakes in, I'll go preachin' er de Gospill, an' won't ask no mor' favors er you 'twell nex' time!"—Atlanta Constitution.

All Natural Believers.

We are natural believers. Truth, or the connection between cause and effect, alone interests us.—Emerson.

Women Who Wear Well.

It is astonishing how great a change a few years of married life often make in the appearance and disposition of many women. The freshness, the charm, the brilliance vanish like the bloom from a peach which is rudely handled. The matron is only a dim shadow, a faint echo of the charming maiden. There are two reasons for this change, ignorance and neglect. Few young women appreciate the shock to the system through the change which comes with marriage and motherhood. Many neglect to deal with the unpleasant pelvic drains and weaknesses which too often come with marriage and motherhood, not understanding that this secret drain is robbing the cheek of its freshness and the form of its fairness.

As surely as the general health suffers when there is derangement of the health of the delicate womanly organs, so surely when these organs are established in health the face and form at once witness to the fact in renewed comeliness. Nearly a million women have found health and happiness in the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It makes weak women strong and sick women well. Ingredients on label—contains no alcohol or harmful habit-forming drugs. Made wholly of those native, American, medicinal roots most highly recommended by leading medical authorities of all the several schools of practice for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments.

For babies, especially for those broken-down in health by too frequent bearing of children, also for the expectant mothers, to prepare the system for the coming of baby and making its advent easy and almost painless, there is no medicine quite so good as "Favorite Prescription." It can do no harm in any condition of the system. It is a most potent invigorating tonic and strengthening nervine nicely adapted to woman's delicate system by a physician of large experience in the treatment of woman's peculiar ailments.

Dr. Pierce may be consulted by letter free of charge. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y.

FAIRNESS OF TAFT.

Scrupulous In His Desire to Render Exact Justice.

REVIEWS OF COURTS MARTIAL

Refused to Approve or Disapprove Findings of Military Tribunals Until He Had Carefully Read the Evidence—A Case In Point.

When he was secretary of war Mr. Taft never unreservedly trusted to the judgment of courts martial upon offending officers to determine his action in approving or disapproving the findings of these military tribunals. He was scrupulous in insisting that all the evidence should be laid before him to be passed upon and weighed by him personally. No pressure of work could be too severe or lack of time too evident to prevent him from satisfying himself that exact justice had been done the accused, according to the evidence and the facts. One evening long after the rest of the department had closed Mr. Taft, at the end of an unusually hard day, took up a bundle of papers relating to the case of a lieutenant who was sentenced to dismissal. The chief of staff was there, and he suggested, with a view to saving Mr. Taft work: "I think that you will not need to go deeper into the case if you read the conclusion of the judge advocate's memorandum and my memorandum. The man is a bad egg. The army will be better off without him."

"No," said the secretary; "I always prefer to go through these cases myself."

The officer had failed to pay his debts. Carefully and slowly Mr. Taft read the evidence through to the end. When he finished he looked up and exclaimed, "But he lied about it!"

Rapturously he dictated a note to be sent, with the papers, to the president and concluded as he laid them aside: "He lied, as he admits, to lie out of it. I think the sentence should be carried out."

There might have been some excuse for the other thing, but there could be none for the lie. It is time to stop this tendency among the officers who get into trouble. It must be discouraged for the honor of the service.

"Of course, he hasn't been there long," remarked the girl with the pearl eardrops.

"I want to go over the rest of these myself," said he, indicating another pile of court martial papers. "I have one that sort of thing all my life, and I'd rather do it than take the judgment of some one else."

BIG AND BROAD.

Methodists endorse the candidacy of William H. Taft.

An unqualified approval of William H. Taft as a presidential candidate was given by the Rev. James Coote, D. D., pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church in Thompsonville, Conn., when he called at the headquarters of the Republican national committee. For years Dr. Coote has taken a prominent part in Methodist circles in New England and in New York, having been a presiding elder and occupied leading pulpits.

"No man has spoken so earnestly in favor of the great work that Christian missions are doing in the Philippines, in China and in the Orient generally as Mr. Taft," said Mr. Coote. "In an address at Yale University he emphasized that idea particularly, and on several other occasions he spoke enthusiastically of the good being done by aggressive Christian evangelicism in the different countries which he visited. It seems to me that no evangelical Christian should hesitate to support Judge Taft. He is just as big and broad in his religious ideas as he is in his physical proportions. He can be trusted to do what is fair and right with all denominations.

"I am convinced that what Judge Taft has said on religious matters was not for political effect. He has gone hither and thither doing the work before him, and at the same time his keen observation and his sense of fairness have led him repeatedly to give expression to his appreciation of the work of Christian missions everywhere."

"Well, in his letter to me he says he cannot imagine how he could have been such a donkey. He says he wished he had listened to my advice instead of some other people's."

"But what has happened?" demanded the girl with the ring.

"Everything," replied the girl with the earring, comprehensively, in an exultant tone. Then she condescended to explain. "Tom said the novelty of it all kept up his enthusiasm for the first week in spite of the fact that he had become an animated bunch of polka dots from the mosquito bites. The next week it started to rain. One night there was such a storm that his tent was torn up and he was nearly drowned. Well, it kept on raining for the next two days and Tom couldn't get a dry twig to build a fire. Everything he had was simply drenched. His blankets and clothes were wet and soggy and he felt a dreadful cold starting in his system. He couldn't get his tent pitched again, for the pole was broken, and of course he couldn't cook anything. He just sat on a box with his tent wrapped around him and sneezed and coughed and wished that the rain would stop."

"Why didn't he take his horse and ride to the town?" asked the girl with the coral dinner ring.

"It kept on raining and raining," pursued the girl with the eardrops, relentlessly, not heeding the question. "The crisis was reached when his horse broke its grazing rope and got away. Tom realized that he had to get to the town somehow, so he walked 15 miles in the pouring rain! He said something about rattlesnakes, too."

"Oh don't! Poor Tom! Where is he now?" implored the girl with the ring.

"He is on his way home by this time. He wrote me from the town hotel and he said he would start in a day or two if his stiff joints would permit him to do so."

"How awful!" murmured the girl with the coral dinner ring.

Not Much.

Church—Is he a man of few words?

Gotham—Few words nothing! He's space writer on a daily newspaper!

Tonkens Statesman—

NEAR TO NATURE

When Tom's Enthusiasm Was Dampened.

The girl with the pearl eardrops smiled dubiously. "I'm afraid I can't show enthusiasm over the project the way you do, dear," she said. "In fact, I think it was awfully foolish of Tom to go. I hope he will give it up and come back to his law work. In theory it is not so bad, but it really doesn't appeal to me as a practical proposition."

The girl with the coral dinner ring looked superior. "It is all a question of temperament," she replied. "Doubtless a person with frivolous aspirations would feel buried alive on a western claim, but I can sympathize with Tom in his viewpoint. To a person of depth and soul there is nothing more glorious than a life close to the heart of nature. I am glad that I strongly advised him to go. It is delightfully poetic."

"Well, the land can't be worth very much, or it wouldn't be given away," said the girl with the pearl eardrops, with a badly suppressed yawn.

"Of course, you pay a little for it," explained the girl with the coral dinner ring. "Just about 50 cents an acre. Then you have to live upon it six months and grow fruit trees and grain and such things, and it's yours."

"I had a letter from Tom yesterday," she went on, "and he is wildly enthusiastic. His tent was pitched and he was living the freest kind of a life. He catches rabbits every night for his dinner, does his own washing and cooking, and every day brings a supply of water from the river, three miles away. Can you imagine anything more glorious than to live there in communion with the beauties of nature?"

"Of course, he hasn't been there long," remarked the girl with the pearl eardrops.

"Long enough to appreciate it all, though," retorted the girl with the coral dinner ring. "Tom says he can travel for miles and miles on his horse across the country, with the exhilarating breezes from the far-off mountains fanning his cheeks, and the sun sinking like a ball of fire in a bed of endless green landscape. He comes back with a ravenous appetite for broiled rabbit, cooked over the camp fire."

"I should hate to peel the rabbit for cooking," murmured the girl with the pearl eardrops, giving a squeamish shudder.

"Well, there are some people who never can rise above dances and dinners and automobile parties. Personally I can see nothing in such empty pastimes. Just think of Tom working there in that glorious, primitive way!"

It was little over a week later that the girl with the pearl eardrops dropped in again to see the girl with the coral dinner ring. "My dear, isn't it lovely that Tom is coming back so soon?" she exclaimed by way of greeting.

"What do you mean?" asked the other girl.

"Why, I had a letter from him this morning and he said he was coming back to civilization as fast as the train could carry him."

The girl with the coral dinner ring looked amazed. "But he was so charmed with the life! What has happened?" in her last letter."

"Well, in his letter to me he says he cannot imagine how he could have been such a donkey. He says he wished he had listened to my advice instead of some other people's."

"But what has happened?" demanded the girl with the ring.

"Everything," replied the girl with the earring, comprehensively, in an exultant tone. Then she condescended to explain. "Tom said the novelty of it all kept up his enthusiasm for the first week in spite of the fact that he had become an animated bunch of polka dots from the mosquito bites. The next week it started to rain. One night there was such a storm that his tent was torn up and he was nearly drowned. Well, it kept on raining for the next two days and Tom couldn't get a dry twig to build a fire. Everything he had was simply drenched. His blankets and clothes were wet and soggy and he felt a dreadful cold starting in his system. He couldn't get his tent pitched again, for the pole was broken, and of course he couldn't cook anything. He just sat on a box with his tent wrapped around him and sneezed and coughed and wished that the rain would stop."

"Why didn't he take his horse and ride to the town?" asked the girl with the coral dinner ring.

"It kept on raining and raining," pursued the girl with the eardrops, relentlessly, not heeding the question. "The crisis was reached when his horse broke its grazing rope and got away. Tom realized that he had to get to the town somehow, so he walked 15 miles in the pouring rain! He said something about rattlesnakes, too."

"Oh don't! Poor Tom! Where is he now?" implored the girl with the ring.

"He is on his way home by this time. He wrote me from the town hotel and he said he would start in a day or two if his stiff joints would permit him to do so."

"How awful!" murmured the girl with the coral dinner ring.

Not Much.

Church—Is he a man of few words?

Gotham—Few words nothing! He's space writer on a daily newspaper!

Tonkens Statesman—

New York's Hotel Population.

New York city business men who are careful observers say that the hotel population of the city is the greatest money spender and that the average of that population is about 200,000, while in the time of great business activity it closely approaches 300,000.

Her Last Hope.

After a man's wife finds that it is useless to try to convince him that smoking is an expensive habit she begins to be afraid that it hurts the baby's throat.

Drink of the Gods.

Nectar was supposed to be the beverage of the gods in mythology. Its color was supposed to be cream, because when Hebe spilled some of it the milky way was formed.

Sew Out of Sight of the Sea.

The Eskimo women of Alaska never sew while the men are fishing, and should any mending be imperative they do it shut up in little tents out of sight of the sea.

A Word from Josh Wise.</h

L. & N. TIME CARD.

Time of arrival of trains passing through and departure of trains originating at Earlington.

Effective Sunday, July 12, 1908.

NORTH BOUND.

No. 92	7:05 a. m.
No. 70	8:49 a. m.
No. 52	11:40 a. m.
No. 94	6:57 p. m.
No. 46	7:07 p. m.
No. 54	11:17 p. m.

SOUTH BOUND.

No. 53	4:36 a. m.
No. 95	8:38 a. m.
No. 41	8:20 a. m.
No. 51	4:27 p. m.
No. 69	6:45 p. m.
No. 93	10:48 p. m.

INTERURBAN TRAINS.

NORTH BOUND.

No. 102	7:30 a. m.
No. 104	9:20 a. m.
No. 106	11:00 a. m.
No. 108	2:08 p. m.
No. 110	5:06 p. m.

SOUTH BOUND.

No. 103	8:10 a. m.
No. 105	10:00 a. m.
No. 107	12:47 p. m.
No. 109	3:20 p. m.
No. III	5:55 p. m.

I. C. R. R. TIME CARD

Time of departure of Illinois Central trains from Nortonville, Ky.

NORTH BOUND.

No. 102	1:28 p. m.
No. 104	3:34 a. m.
No. 122, local pass.	10:25 a. m.
No. 196, local	1:28 p. m.

SOUTH BOUND.

No. 101	4:46 p. m.
No. 103	1:48 a. m.
No. 121, local pass.	1:28 p. m.
No. 195, local fr't.	8:40 a. m.

New Oliver No. 5

Sets Swiftest Pace Ever Known in Typewriter Selling.

The wonderfull new model, Oliver No. 5, has taken the market by storm.

Its reception by the public has exceeded all expectations we had dared to anticipate.

Employers and stenographers alike have welcomed it as the one machine that answers the multiplied need of the hour.

The cry is for Speed! Speed!—and the Oliver responds.

The demand for Durability is filled by the sturdy, steel-clad Oliver. To a call for a writing machine that will do many things and do each of them equally well, the Oliver answers with its unexampled versatility.

Its visible writing saves the strain on eye and brain.

Its legibility lends beauty to its work. The letters that bear the Oliver imprint are the letters that seem to speak.

Oliver No. 5 fairly bristles with new and exclusive time-and-saving features. We have space to mention only a few of the more important ones.

—Disappearing Indicator shows exact printing point.

—Balance Shifting Mechanism saves operative effort.

—Line Ruling Device is fine for tabulated work.

—Double Release doubles convenience.

—Non-Vibrating Base insures stability. Yet with all of those added improvements, we have still further simplified the Oliver-by-fusing brains with metal.

Oliver No. 5 is a dream come true—the dream of Thomas Oliver crystallized into this wonderful mechanism of shining steel that embodies every possible requirement of a perfect writing machine.

Ask the nearest Oliver agent for a Free Demonstration of Oliver No. 5. Or send for The Oliver Book—yours for a postcard.

The Oliver Typewriter Company,
The Oliver Typewriter Building.—
Chicago, Ill.

Rheumatism

I have found a tried and tested cure for Rheumatism! Not a remedy that will straighten the distorted limbs of chronic cripples, nor turn bony growths back to flesh again. That is impossible. But I can now easily kill the pains and pangs of this dolorous disease.

In Germany—with a Chelone in the City of Darmstadt—I found the last ingredient with which Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy was made—a potent drug of great power. This is the last ingredient I successfully found many, many cases of Rheumatism—but now, at last, it fully cures all curable cases of this heretofore much dreaded disease. This sand-like granular was the secret of the German Remedy. It cures and passes away under the action of this remedy as freely as does sugar when added to pure water. And then, when dissolved, these poisonous wastes freely pass from the system, and the cause of illness is removed.

"It is real need—no actual excuse to suffer longer with out help. We sell, and in confidence recommend

Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy

KILL THE COUGH AND CURE THE LUNGS

WITH Dr. King's
New Discovery
FOR COUGHS

PRICE
50¢ & $1.00.
Thai Sothe Free

AND ALL THROAT AND LUNG TROUBLES.
GUARANTEED SATISFACTORY
OR MONEY REFUNDED.

Problem in Anatomy.

"I wonder if these menu writers know how much a leg of lamb costs," said a lady the other day, as she read for the fifth time a menu in a newspaper having that part of the young sheep as the meat for dinner. "It is all very well to get a leg of lamb if you have a large family," she said, "and can pay the price, but for a small family a shoulder of lamb is much better."

Sluggish Liver a Foe to Ambition.

You can not accomplish very much if your liver is inactive as you fell dull your eyes are heavy and slight exertion exhausts you. Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup stimulates the liver and bowels and makes you feel bright and active. Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup does not nauseate or gripe and is mild and very pleasant to take. Orino is more effective than pills or ordinary cathartics. Refuse substitutes.

Sold by St. Bernard Drug Store, Incorporated.

A Dog's Bark.

It has been frequently noted by aeronauts that the barking of a dog is always the last sound they hear from earth, and it has been discovered that this can be heard under favorable circumstances at an elevation of four miles.

Be Charitable

te your horses as well as to yourself. You need not suffer from pains of any sort—your horses need not suffer. Try a bottle of Ballard's Snow Liniment. It cures all pains. J. M. Roberts, Bakersfield, Mo., writes: "I have used your Liniment for ten years and find it to be the best I have ever used for man or beast."

Sold by St. Bernard Mining Co., Incorporated, drug department.

Derivation of "Poster."

Posters took their name from the fact that in former times the footways of London streets were separated from the drives by a line of posts, on which advertisements were displayed.

Read the pain formula on a box of Pink Pain Tablets. Then ask your Doctor if there is a better one. Pain means congestion—blood pressure somewhere. Dr. Shoop's Pink Pain Tablets check head pains, womanly pain, pain anywhere. Try one, and see! 25¢. Sold by St. Bernard Mining Co., incorporated, drug department.

Hard Times.

"Yessir," said Uncle Mose, "dese am suttinly hard times. My wife hab only four places to do washing, an' dis time las' year she had six regulars an' four every other Wednesdays."

A clergyman writes: "Preventics, those little Candy Cold Cure Tablets are working wonders in my parish." Preventics surely will check a cold or the Grippe, in a very few hours. And Preventics are so safe and harmless. No Quinine, nothing harsh nor sickening. Fine for feverish restless children. Box of 48 at 35¢. Sold by St. Bernard Mining Co., incorporated, drugstore.

Confidence.

The surest way to destroy people's confidence in you is to continually question the motives of others.

For cuts, sprains, bruises, burns rheumatic and all other pains, use McLean's Volcanic Oil Liniment. First sold in 1852, still the same effective remedy in 1908. Good for men or beast. 25¢, 50¢ and $1.00.

To Get Brightness from Life.

As the sun returns in the east, so let our patience be renewed with dawn; as the sun lightens the world, so let our loving-kindness make bright the house of our habitation.—Steven.

Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee is created from pure, parched grains malt, nuts, etc.—no real coffee in it. Fine in flavor—is made in a minute. No 20 or 30 minutes tedious boiling. Sample free.

Sold by J. F. DeVylder.

Bad Backache

Such agonies as some women suffer, every month, from backache!

Is it necessary? No. It can be prevented and relieved, when caused by female trouble, by taking a medicine with specific, curative action, on the female organs and functions, which acts by relieving the congestion, stopping the pain and building the organs and functions up to a proper state of health. Try.

Camel Can Carry Heavy Load.

A camel is able to carry a load three times greater than the horse.

Mind Your Business.

If you don't nobody will. It is your business to keep out of liver and bowel trouble. Dr. King's New Life Pills. They keep biliousness, malaria and jaundice out of your system.

Only 25¢. at all leading druggists.

Going Not to Wear.

It is unlawful to drill a hole into a penny or otherwise mutilate it for the purpose of using it as an ornament.

Itching, torturing skin eruptions, disfigure, annoy drive one wild. Doan's Ointment brings quick relief and lasting cures. Fifty cents at any drug store.

After a heavy meal, take a couple of Doan's Reglets, and give your stomach, liver and bowels the help they will need. Reglets bring easy, reging easy, regular passages.

Frigid for His Freedom.

Applying for a divorce, an old Georgia negro said to the judge: "Hit only cost me a string er fish ter git married, jedge, but, please God, I'd give whale ter git rid er her."

The New Pure Food and Drug Law.

We are pleased to announce that Foley's Honey and Tar for coughs, colds, and lung troubles is not affected by the National Pure Food and Drug Law as it contains no opiates or other harmful drugs, and we recommend it as a safe remedy for children and adults.

Sold by St. Bernard Drug Store, Incorporated.

Be Not Pleased with Thyself.

Be always displeased at what thou art, if thou desire to attain to what thou art not; for where thou hast pleased thyself, there thou abidest.—Francis Quarles.

There's No Use

talking, you can't beat Herbine for the liver. The greatest regulator ever offered to suffering humanity. If you suffer from liver complaint, if you are bilious and fretful, it's your liver, and Herbine will put it in its proper condition. A positive cure for Constipation, Biliousness, Dyspepsia all ills due to a torpid liver. Try a bottle and you will never use anything else.

Sold by St. Bernard Mining Co., Incorporated, drug department.

Ideals.

Cherish ideals as the traveler cherishes the north star, and keep the guiding light pure and bright and high above the horizon.—Hills.

Tickling, tight Coughs, can be surely and quickly loosened with a prescription. Druggists are dispensing everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy. And it is so very different from common cough medicines. No Opium, no Chloroform, absolutely nothing harsh or unsafe. The tender leaves of a harmless, lung healing mountainous shrub gives the curative properties to Dr. Shoop's Remedy. Those leaves have the power to calm the most distressing Cough and to soothe and heal the most sensitive bronchial membrane. Mothers should, for safety's sake alone, always demand Dr. Shoop's. It can with perfect freedom be given to the youngest babes. Test it yourself! and see. Sold by St. Bernard Mining Co., Incorporated, drugstore.

May Be Origin of "23."

Telegraphers have a yarn to the effect that 'way back "23" was used for a death message, but veterans of the key do not recall the employment of numerals.

It isn't so difficult to strengthen a weak Stomach if one goes at it correctly. And this is true of the Heart and Kidneys. The old fashioned way of dosing the Stomach or stimulating the Heart or Kidneys is surely wrong! Dr. Shoop first pointed out this error. "Go to the weak or ailing nerves of these organs," said he. Each inside organ has its controlling or "inside nerve." When these nerves fail then these organs must surely falter. This vital truth is clearly taught by druggists everywhere to dispense and recommend Dr. Shoop's Restorative. A few days will tell! Sold by St. Bernard Mining Co., Incorporated, drugstore.

No Fear Now.

No need to fear Japan. An oil trust has begun to work over there, and now the nation never will have any money.—Detroit News.

Our Christmas Wares Are Ready For You

We acquire our stocks from the manufacturers who produce the most dependable, the most artistic, the most fashionable and the most satisfactory wares for gift-making purposes.

DO YOUR HOLIDAY SHOPPING NOW

It is not only wise, it is considerate. Stocks are full, fresh and complete---at their best. Every advantage is to be gained by making your selections now. Store will be open each night.

Solid Gold Jewelry

Nothing lends itself more fittingly for gift purposes than some article of solid gold jewelry that may be kept and esteemed forever. No store has ever provided so large an assortment of Beautiful Solid Gold Jewelry for your selection before, and surely never at such remarkably low prices as prevail.

Solid Gold Rings, Bracelets, Chains, Watches, Buttons, Pins and Lockets.

Solid Silverware

Our stock of Solid Silver Tableware is very large and contains nearly all articles commonly used.

Spoons, Knives, Forks, Ladles and Odd Pieces

Buy Silverware from the store that offers the greatest assortment to choose from. We know our low prices will please you.

Gold Filled Jewelry

Jewelry making science and art have made it possible for everybody to own beautiful and substantial jewelry in rolled plate and gold filled goods that will endure for years. Our stock of this class of jewelry is recommended as economical and guaranteed to be satisfactory.

Gold Filled Bracelets, Lockets, Charms, Chains, Watches, Fobs, Pins, Buttons, Etc.

Rich Cut Glass

The seekers for dainty, artistic and appropriate Christmas gifts, should not overlook our Cut Glass Department. Our Cut Glass is made by probably the largest cut glass factory in the world, and the cutting, finish and designs are the most beautiful we ever saw. The prices are very low considering the elegant quality of the ware.

M. H. TAPPAN, JEWELER AND OPTICIAN
EARLINGTON, KENTUCKY

The SACRIFICE

BY HARRY IRVING GREENE

GROGAN was down and out. This was a literal truth, as well as a figurative one, for he was down upon his haunches behind a warehouse on the river front, and he was out at the elbows and knees and other places. Presently he arose and looked sullenly about as he remembered that it was Thanksgiving morning; that he had eaten nothing for 24 hours, and that hunger was gnawing at his stomach like a rat. Then he began to plot.

Grogan was a pretty hard citizen, but as yet he had done nothing really criminal. In the last few days, however, he had exhausted all his resources save one to get some money, and now he had decided upon the final expedient. He determined to hold somebody up. He picked up a short iron rod from the alley, shoved it up his sleeve and slouched in between the tall buildings.

Now it so happened that into the other end of the alley at the same time came Joe White, his hands in his pockets and whistling as he came. Joe had not eaten for 24 hours, either, and he was fully as hungry as Grogan, but he had prospects for a great meal at midday and was biding his time in content. He had struck a wonderful streak of luck that morning, for in his wanderings he had found a decent restaurant where the proprietor had promised him all that he could eat at noon, if he would clean the rubbish out of the alley back of the restaurant. So Joe had gone to work heartily, and had finished the task before nine o'clock, but the dinner would not be served until noon, and he was waiting contentedly in the knowledge that in another hour he would be at his feast. He had come into the alley that he might stand in front of a ventilator that sucked the warm air out of a basement into the cold alley outside, and thus it came to pass that he and Grogan met at the warm blast.

Joe was not well dressed, but his clothes were whole, and to Grogan's eye he looked a person who might well enough have a few dollars in his pockets, so the would-be highwayman stepped close beside him and drew the iron bar. "Give me your coin, party," he growled. "And if you got gay I'll slug you."

Joe receded slightly and looked into the ugly face before him, then raised his hands. "Search me," he said. "You will not find a cent, but I hope you will not hit me with that thing just because I am a disappointment." His voice was not at all angry or afraid, and with a grunt the robber went through him thoroughly. He found nothing of value and turned away.

"No use of hitting' you, I suppose, kid," he said. "Just stand where you are until I make my getaway around that corner. Luck next time."

"Are you going to hold up somebody else?" asked Joe, in a friendly tone. Grogan laughed back harshly at him.

"It's a case of steal or starve, so what else can a man do, young feller?" he demanded.

Joe had been thinking rapidly for the last minute, and he was inclined to believe that the man before him was not a hopeless case. And as the other's bitter words came back to him an old teaching of his mother flashed

"You're All Right, Young Feller!"

I don't suppose it makes any difference to you if somebody else eats in my place."

"No," said the proprietor, indifferently, as he motioned Grogan to a seat in an obscure corner of the little place, where a waiter handed him a bill-of-fare. Joe stepped outside, and through the window watched Grogan as he ate like a famished wolf, and when the feeder could eat no more, saw him pick up his hat, and walking erect and like a new man, pass out onto the street. On the sidewalk they met, and Grogan held out his hand, slipping the other iron rod as he did so.

"You're all right, young feller, and I won't forget it," he said, earnestly. "No more strong arm work for me from now on. And you can bet I mean it. Good-by."

He turned into the crowd and Joe watched him disappear. Somehow his hunger was not troubling him much now and his heart was beating lightly, for in his ears was ringing the voice of one who had taught him on her knees in the long ago, and the voice was saying:

"I have shewed you all things, how that so laboring ye ought to support the weak, and to remember the words of the Lord Jesus, how he said 'It is more blessed to give than to receive.'"

(Copyright 1908, by Wright A. Patterson.)

Superstition of Fishermen.

In Japan among the primitive race of the Ainu even the women left at home are not allowed to talk lest the fish may hear and disapprove, while the first fish is always brought in through a window instead of a door so the other fish may not see.

Fined for His Freedom.

Applying for a divorce, an old Georé négró said to the judge: "Hit only cost me a string er fish ter git married, jedge, but, please God, I'd give a whale ter git rid er her."

The Earlington Bee

Subscription Price

One Dollar per Year

HEALTH NOTICE!

THE Board of Health desires to call the attention of the citizens of Earlington to the fact that Smallpox is now prevalent in this vicinity and to ask their aid and cooperation in every effort to suppress the spread of the disease. With this end in view we must ask all persons to avoid gatherings and crowds as much as possible. Transact your business in the stores as speedily as possible and do not loiter in crowds.

Stay In The Fresh Air

All persons who have not been successfully vaccinated during the past few years should be vaccinated at once. Do this of your own accord before it becomes necessary for the board to resort to compulsory vaccination as prescribed by law.

The proper authorities have instructed the City Marshal and his deputies to disperse all crowds and keep the people moving, and we ask that all citizens realize that they are vitally interested and lend their assistance in every way to stamp out smallpox.

John X. Taylor
C. B. Johnson, M. D. / Board of Health
Dan M. Evans

November 25th, 1908.

ENOUGH TO WAKE HIM.

HAVE SEEN MRS. GUINNESS

WITNESSES AT LAMPHERE TRIAL SAY WOMAN IS NOT DEAD.

LITTLE GIRLS RECOGNIZED HER

With Men Arch Murderess Drove Along Road July 9—Identified by Movements and Form.

Laporte, Ind., Nov. 23.—The sensations of Saturday afternoon's session of the Lamphere trial were the stories told by Daniel M. Huston and his daughters, by Fred Ryckman and by John Anderson, who saw a strange woman with Mrs. Gunness on the Saturday before the fire. Huston and his daughters declared on the witness stand that they saw Mrs. Gunness on July 9, but they were unable to distinguish her features through a black veil.

Huston, a neighbor of Mrs. Gunness and one of the men engaged by Sheriff Smutzer to dig in the ruins for the bodies at the time of the fire, declared he knew Mrs. Gunness so well that he could not be mistaken. He said:

"I saw her on the road near the hogpen July 9. I was returning from town with a hayrack and saw two people at the Gunness place. She had on a light skirt, black waist, wide-brimmed hat, a white veil on the hat and a black veil that came to her chin.

"There was a man with her. He weighed about 165 pounds, and had a gray mustache and gray hair. When I got within two wagon lengths they got into their buggy and drove on and I tried to follow them. They got ahead of me and I did not like to follow them."

Afraid of Being Shot.

"There was too good a chance of getting a chunk of lead. The buggy had a yellow running gear and a black top. The horse was a gray one with dapples on its hips as big as a half dollar."

On cross-examination the witness said that he did not see the woman's features or face, but could tell from her build and walk that it was Mrs. Gunness.

Evaline Huston, 11 years old, who followed her father on the stand, testified that she saw Mrs. Gunness in "hay time" near the woods. She was in a buggy with a man. They passed her in the road. The girl said that Mrs. Gunness had on two veils, a black one and a white one, the black one being over her face. The girl said: "When I saw her she turned her face away from me."

Eldora Huston, 9 years old, sister of the preceding witness said:

"I was playing by the big gate by the road. I saw Mrs. Gunness go by with a man. She had on a double veil and a wide-brimmed hat. I did not know the man."

Attorney Worden, who is defending Lamphere made public Sunday night, a letter received Sunday by special delivery by his law partner Mayor Lemuel Darro. The writer whose full name address is withheld by Mr. Worden, says he knows that Mrs. Gunness is alive, and declares that he was the man who accompanied her to the Gunness farm on July 9, the date on which D. M. Huston and his daughters say they saw Mrs. Gunness, and a man drive away in a buggy.

Couldn't Pass Novoalexandrovski. London, Nov. 23.—Word has been received here that the balloon owned by the Daily Graphic which ascended from this city Wednesday morning in an attempt to reach Siberia and break the long distance record was compelled to descend in a gale on Thursday night near Novoalexandrovski, Russia, after having traveled about 1,150 miles. The best long distance record was made by Count De La Vaulx, who succeeded in covering 1,183 miles.

Killed Man; Remains Silent.

Birmingham, Ala., Nov. 23.—J. J. Northcutt, of Henry Ellen, Jefferson county, was shot and killed Sunday night by J. W. Dement. Dement will say nothing as to the cause of the tragedy.

JOHN D. ADMITS REBATING

REFUSES TO ANSWER QUESTIONS CONCERNING DETAILS OF TRUST FORMATION.

PROFITS WERE ENORMOUS

Rockefeller Says Danger of Fire Is Constant and for Half a Century He Has Listened for Alarms. Calls Business Hazardous.

New York, Nov. 21.—For over five hours Friday, John D. Rockefeller, witness for the defense in the government suit to dissolve the Standard Oil Co., faced an unceasing fire of questions from the federal counsel, Frank B. Kellogg, and when adjournment was taken until Monday, the head of the oil combine was still being cross examined on the charges that the company in its early days accepted rebates to the disadvantage of its rivals.

Mr. Rockefeller's cross examination will probably not be concluded until late Tuesday, as Mr. Kellogg made it known that he would question Mr. Rockefeller on every detail of the company's business.

The enormous earning power of the oil combination was sharply brought out in Friday's hearing, when Mr. Rockefeller after stating that the Standard had paid dividends amounting to $40,000,000 in 1907 said it had earned as much more and this was added to the company's surplus, which was stated by the government's counsel to be three hundred million.

It was further declared by Mr. Kellogg that the company within the last eight years had earned nearly half a billion dollars.

Course Not So Smooth.

The course of Mr. Rockefeller's testimony in the hands of government's counsel ran not smoothly as on Thursday when he told his story under direction of friendly counsel, but the rapid fire interrogations of the prosecutor were always met with unshaken imperturbability and readiness to answer, except when as he explained:

"It is quite impossible for me to remember after thirty-five years. I do recall."

Mr. Rockefeller was questioned closely regarding rebates which the Standard was charged with receiving, but with the exception of the agreement with the Pennsylvania Railroad which Mr. Rockefeller explained gave the Standard a rebate because it effected an equalization of oil shipments, Mr. Rockefeller could not recall any other rebate, though he thought it was likely that he might have heard of it at the time.

The Standard Oil counsel when he learned that the government counsel would not be able to conclude the cross examination by Saturday night, suggested an adjournment until Monday which was agreed to.

Following a little preliminary skirmish, designed to give the oil king the opportunity to get on the records as declaring once more that he is not now actively engaged in the oil business, Attorney Kellogg plunged at the heart of Mr. Rockefeller's direct testimony.

"Do you consider hazardous, Mr. Rockefeller, any business which starts in 1882 with a capital of $67,000,000, has paid dividends of $591,000,000 and accumulated a surplus of over $300,000,000?" asked Mr. Kellogg, learning forward to catch the answer, if it chanced to be whispered.

"I do not consider that the amount of money made in any business has anything to do with whether it is hazardous," replied Mr. Rockefeller with a deliberate calm that coaxed a murmur of approval from the interested audience.

Refuses to Answer Questions

The stubborn resistance to the government's effort to wrest the long hidden secrets from the archives of the Standard Oil company was clearly developed.

Three times Mr. Rockefeller was asked successively certain questions concerning the apportionment of cash property and trust certificates since the promulgation of the trust agreement in 1882.

"I decline to answer unless counsel for the government insists, in which case I will answer," was the stereotyped reply of the witness in each case.

Attorney Kellogg repeated his request but was interrupted by Attorney Milburn:

National Auditorium Proposed.

Washington, Nov. 20.—After numerous attempts in years past to provide this city a mammoth structure wherein could be held the inaugural ball and large conventions, definite steps were taken Thursday looking to the construction of an auditorium.

Behind the project are some of the prominent citizens of Washington in official and business life. It is proposed that the auditorium proper shall have a seating capacity of 12,000.

Big Dividends Paid.

"The record shows that up to 1906 the net earnings of the company were $551,922,904. What was the dividend in 1907?" asked Mr. Kellogg.

"It should say about 40 per cent."

Mr. Kellogg again asked if he considered the business risky on such a showing, and Mr. Rockefeller again retorted that the profit did not determine the risk. It was evidence that the business was prosperous. He assented to Mr. Kellogg's figures showing that the company earned $490,000,000 from 1890 to 1906. Adding the

HAS ROCKEFELLER SECURED IMMUNITY?

Washington, Nov. 21.—"The question of whether John D. Rockefeller has secured immunity will be decided, should the occasion arise requiring a decision," said Attorney General Bonaparte, in reply to question at the White House Friday before the cabinet meeting. "It appears that the law covering the question of immunity is not as specific as high government officials think it ought to be. It provides immunity from personal prosecution to those who appear, 'in response to a subpoena,' but whether that means a summons from the prosecution or defense in the case is not made clear."

It is understood, however, that the government contends that Mr. Rockefeller has gained no immunity by his action in testifying before Special Examiner Ferris.

Earnings of 1907 would give a total earnings of $570,000,000.

"Then where does the hazard of the business come in?" asked Mr. Kellogg.

"In the first place, since the first refinery was built more than fifty years ago, we have been prepared at any moment of the day or night to hear the fire alarm. We are dealing with a very explosive product. Fires are constantly occurring."

"But your profits were above your fire losses, which have been charged to profit and loss account?"

"Yes, sir."

May Exhaust Supply.

Mr. Rockefeller said another risk was the peculiar construction of refining machinery, which could be used for no other purpose. One could never tell when he would awake and find the crude oil supply exhausted.

Mr. Kellogg then asked Mr. Rockefeller about the Standard Oil agreement with the Pennsylvania railroad in 1877, in which the Pennsylvania agreed to pay back 10 per cent of the freight rates which the Standard paid. The witness said this agreement followed the rate war between the Northern and the Southern lines, and that there was an agreement whereby he was to equalize the amount of freight distributed between the different roads.

Mr. Kellogg read the agreement, which showed that it provided that the Standard Oil Co., was to ship 2,000,000 barrels of oil a year. When the government counsel asked if the other railroads besides the Pennsylvania made a like agreement for a 10 per cent rebate, Mr. Rockefeller referred him to the men who conducted the negotiations.

JAPS, BASEBALL FANS.

Eight Thousand Watch American and Tokyo Teams Play.

Tokyo, Nov. 23.—In the presence of an enthusiastic crowd of more than 8,000 people, the American baseball team which came to Japan to play some of the university teams opened the season Sunday afternoon and defeated the Waseda university by a score of five to nothing.

The Waseda team played snappy ball, but did not succeed in getting a man as far as second.

Count Okuma, the sage of Waseda university, wearing the cap and coat of the Americans tossed the first ball across the plate. After the game, the Americans were the guests of Count Okuma at a garden party given by him in their honor.

MAY START NEW BANK.

F. P. Neal Refuses Presidency of Kansas City Bank of Commerce.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 23.—F. P. Neal, vice president and active manager of the Union National bank, which was absorbed Sunday by the National Bank of Commerce, and who it had been generally expected, would be elected president of the latter bank to succeed W. B. Ridgely, announced Sunday night that he could not be considered a candidate for that office. Mr. Neal announced that he had almost completed the organization of a new national bank with $1,000,000 capital, all subscribed in Kansas City and of which he is to be president.

National Auditorium Proposed.

Washington, Nov. 20.—After numerous attempts in years past to provide this city a mammoth structure whereon could be held the inaugural ball and large conventions, definite steps were taken Thursday looking to the construction of an auditorium.

Behind the project are some of the prominent citizens of Washington in official and business life. It is proposed that the auditorium proper shall have a seating capacity of 12,000.

Big Dividends Paid.

"The record shows that up to 1906 the net earnings of the company were $551,922,904. What was the dividend in 1907?" asked Mr. Kellogg.

"It should say about 40 per cent."

Mr. Kellogg again asked if he considered the business risky on such a showing, and Mr. Rockefeller again retorted that the profit did not determine the risk. It was evidence that the business was prosperous. He assented to Mr. Kellogg's figures showing that the company earned $490,000,000 from 1890 to 1906. Adding the

RAIN SAVES CROPS

"APRIL" SHOWERS WITH LIGHTNING DAMPEN ST. LOUIS.

TORNADO REPORTED IN ARKANSAS

Report as to Dead Seem to Be Exaggerated—More Moisture Coming.

St. Louis, Nov. 25.—Copious, refreshing, "April" showers, accompanied with heavy salvos of thunder and lightning flashes, fell Monday night and broke one of the most severe droughts throughout Illinois and Missouri in many years. The benefit to farmers will save hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Reports received by the weather bureau show rains were general throughout Illinois, Missouri, Indiana, Michigan, Wisconsin, Iowa, Kansas, Arkansas, Oklahoma and Northeast Texas.

Not only that, but another general rain is sweeping down from Utah, and heavy showers are falling west of the Rockies. They are due in St. Louis Wednesday afternoon.

Reports of the tornado in Arkansas seem to be overdrawn, as specials say no deaths have been reported.

Bad in Illinois.

The drought worked great havoc throughout Illinois cities and towns. In many places water was so scarce that it was hawked about in wagons. Many manufacturing plants were compelled to suspend or curtail their output because of lack of water. Streams went dry for the first time since 1887 and farmers were unable to do fall plowing.

With pleasant weather, farmers will put in every available hour putting in belated planting. The rains came in time to save much of growing wheat.

Tornado in Arkansas.

Lewisville, Ark., Nov. 25.—A tornado struck the western portion of this county about 2 p. m. Monday. The two-story residence of W. P. Hayes was unroofed and twisted from its foundation. His barn was destroyed and some stock was killed. Several buildings were blown down in other parts of the county. No loss of life is reported.

No Damage Near Pine Bluff.

Pine Bluff, Ark., Nov. 25.—The storm which was severe in Western Arkansas Monday night did no damage in this section of the state beyond an electrical and rain storm.

Report From Little Rock.

Little Rock, Ark., Nov. 25.—A tornado which went through Northeastern Arkansas left a broad trail of destruction in its wake, as far as can be learned from the meager reports that come in here. The storm cut a path about two miles wide and 75 miles long, and in that territory telegraph and telephone wires were so badly wrecked that it is hard to obtain any details.

Reports of the greatest damage come from Knoxville, Ark. The storm tore across the mouth of Piney creek, near that town, leaving scarcely one stick standing and injuring 20 persons, besides killing several.

Rain in Illinois.

Vandalia, Ill., Nov. 25.—Rain which was general over this section, fell Monday night. This is the first rain to speak of in several months.

Rain at Bismarck.

Bismarck, Mo., Nov. 25.—Rain fell here Monday for more than an hour. This was the first rain in this section for four months. Forest fires have been very destructive.

Dies Trying to Save Brother.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Nov. 25.—Raymond Smith, 11 years old, lost his life Tuesday in a futile effort to save his brother, Herbert, two years younger, from drowning. The boys were sledding on thin ice on the Lehigh river when the smaller boy broke through about 15 feet from the shore. The older boy tried to reach him and also broke through the ice and both were carried under and drowned. Their bodies were recovered.

Pitcher Acquitted of Killing Batter.

Pottsville, Pa., Nov. 25.—Albert Wychunis, a youthful baseball pitcher, who killed a companion, Joseph Reed, in a game at William Penn, was acquitted of murder by the grand jury. Wychunis pitched a swift curve ball while Reed was at bat, which struck him over the heart and he fell dead. Wychunis is 15 years old and his victim was 9.

Admitting that American war vessels are not the equal of the last war vessels built by foreign nations, Admiral Robley D. Evans, in a letter to the United States Naval Academy Alumni of the West, which was banqueted at Chicago Monday night, went on to say in answer to many critics of the United States navy, that it was generally the equal of any afloat.

Ten Prisoners Break Jail.

Tulsa, Okla., Nov. 25.—At Claremore, 40 miles northeast of here, 10 prisoners succeeded in sawing out of the county jail and making good their escape.

Bull Gores Farmer to Death.

Wilcox, Neb., Nov. 25.—Charles Gote, a well-to-do German living six miles southwest of this place, was accidentally shot and killed by Frank Stuart while hunting.

ARCHBOLD IN JOHN D.'S PLACE

OIL KING EXCUSED AFTER HE NAMES RAILROADS IN WHICH HE IS INTERESTED.

HIS MEMORY IS VERY POOR

Has Interest in Mexican Line, but Can't Tell What It Is Called.

—Owns Stock in Seven.

New York, Nov. 25.—J. D. Archbold was placed upon the stand Tuesday after John D. Rockefeller had been excused by "Trust-Buster" Kellogg in the hearing before Commissioner Franklin Ferris of St. Louis.

</

JOHN HENRY ON OBESITY CURES

BY GEO. V. HOBART, ("HUGH M'HUGH.")

Dear Bunch: Your letter from Vienna received, and glad we are to know that you and Alice are crowding the occasion with the joy of living.

On next year's trip Peaches and I hope to be with you, and what we'll do to Europe will be a pitiable shame.

I met Jack Golden the other day, and he sends his kindest to you and Alice.

Jack says he's going to get married some of these days and do that Europe gag himself.

Can you imagine Jack with a thousand dollars' worth of blushing bride hanging on his elbow, hiking through Europe and stopping in at the Louvre occasionally to make faces at the paintings?

I can't.

If ever a bride drags Jack away from Stone street she'll be the limit in ladies' dress goods, and that's no jovial outburst.

We are all well at home with the exception that some fresh friend told Aunt Martha that she was getting out, and the old lady promptly fell every obesity cure known to modern science.

"The Muscle Goods Arrived."

Even at top weight Aunt Martha doesn't go over 154 pounds, but she got the idea in her head that compared with her Barnum's original fat lady was a pikerette, so she decided to go after that obesity thing with an ax.

We tried to flag her and talk her out of it, but she waved us all back, and said she'd made up her mind she wasn't going through this world leading a double chin.

Well, Bunch, Aunt Martha started in to put the sabots to the fatty tissue, and for a week Uncle Peter's peaceful home across the road looked like a moving picture entitled "The Original Rough House."

First flop out of the box Mrs. Grimsaw, who weighs 278 in her war-paint, told Aunt Martha that exercise was the only thing to keep down the weight, so Uncle Peter was chased off to town for a rowing machine, a set of Indian clubs and a proud assortment of deaf and dumb bells.

Presently the muscle goods arrived, and next morning about daylight Aunt Martha jumped on board the rowing machine and bore away to the northwest, with a strong ebb tide on the port bow.

She was about four miles up the river and going hard when a strap broke, whereupon Aunt Martha went overboard with a splash that upset most of the furniture in the room and soaked her manicure set down behind the bureau.

One of the oars went up in the air and landed on the bridge of Uncle Peter's nose, because his face happened to be in the way when the oar came down.

When loving hands finally pulled Aunt Martha out of the interior of her rocking-chair, she found that, with the help of the rowing machine, she had lost nearly two pounds, mostly off the end of her elbow.

The next day Mrs. Cooper, who weighs about 246, told Aunt Martha that she wasn't using the best kind of physical torture, so Uncle Peter was once more chased off to the store, where he bought one of those rubber contrivances you fasten on the wall and then try to pull it off again with the handles.

Bright and early the next morning Aunt Martha grabbed the handles, and was getting away from her obesity at the rate of an ounce an hour, when suddenly one of the rubber strings broke and something kicked Aunt Martha just where a good singer sets her coloratura.

When Aunt Martha fell wounded on the field of battle every picture on the walls fell with her, and there was such a crash that the cook thought the end of the world was coming, so he screaming in the direction of son, N. J.

I had to pour about a bucket of water over Aunt Martha's map before she came to, and then she found that all she had lost by this new process was her breath and a couple of side combs.

Mrs. Gaddings dropped in that day and told Aunt Martha that the only way to reduce the flesh is to take a long walk; so Auntie picked out a long walk and took it.

After she was gone about six hours, and it was getting dark, she called Uncle Peter up on the long distance telephone and broke the news to him that she had walked 15 miles, and that she had been so extravagant she had used up all the walk that was in her, and that she would have to stay there in a foreign land alone, among utter strangers, unless he sent a cab for her.

When Aunt Martha got home that night she found that all the flesh she had lost was her pocketbook with ten dollars in it, and Uncle Peter lost about ten dollars for cab hire, making a total of four pounds, English money.

A day or two later Mrs. Carruthers told Aunt Martha that the only sure cure for obesity was to take electric baths, so Uncle Peter had one rigged up which was a great shock to his pocketbook.

As soon as it was up Aunt Martha went inside of the frame-work and sat among the electric lamps with only her head out in the atmosphere for about two hours.

Then she came out smiling, and said she felt fine, and that she must have lost ten pounds.

Uncle Peter peeped inside to look the bath over, and found that she had forgotten to turn the current on.

Next morning when Aunt Martha went after the electric bath Uncle Peter turned the current on himself to make sure, and when Auntie stepped in it she accidentally put her foot on an ohm or something, which tickled her so that she let a blood-curdling yell out of her that could be heard for 27 miles as the crow flies.

Then she put her other foot down, and that landed on a volt or an amper or some foolish dingus which caused Aunt Martha to become short-circuited.

"Could Be Heard 27 Miles."

Bunch, she was the shortest circuit that ever happened.

For a couple of minutes that room looked like a thunderstorm, with Aunt Martha playing the thunder.

When Uncle Peter finally got the current turned off and all the live wires out of her hair, Aunt Martha collapsed on the sofa, screaming: "Take it away! Take it away! Now I know what a hard life the third rail must lead!"

I think the electric treatment has cured Aunt Martha.

At any rate all the exercising paraphernalia has been thrown out in the back yard, and I think that now she will be perfectly satisfied to go through life leading a double chin as nature intended.

Yours in the current of friendship,
JOHN.
(Copyright, 1908, by G. W. Dillingham Co.)

Why He Escaped.

Two men who had not seen each other since they parted after an ocean voyage that was noteworthy for its roughness stopped to talk about the journey.

"Do you remember that particularly rough day on the Banks," one of the men asked the other, "when you were the only man who went to lunch?" The good sailor allowed that he did.

"Well, sir," pursued the other, "you never knew how near you came to death that afternoon. When Gillen and I saw you coming out on deck with a novel in one hand and a cigar in the other, looking disgracefully well, Gillen said to me: 'Any man who has the nerve to flaunt his ability to stand this rolling in the face of men as sick as we ought to be thrown overboard.' I agreed with him. But you escaped because neither of us was able to get up to it."

Thrift in Children.

Some day the plan of providing for children by starting a bank account for each baby at birth and adding to it on each birthday will become general, and there will be a hope of fostering thrift in growing children. The possession of a bank book which they cannot wholly own till legally free from the guidance of parents is often a matter of pride which prompts saving. Everybody knows how hard it is to save the first hundred dollars, and how much the difficult lessons with every addition to that.

CITY DIRECTORY.

CITY OFFICERS.

Mayor—James R. Rash.
Police Judge—Chas. Cowell.
Chief of Police—Wm. Bradley.
Night Chief—Clarence Mitchell.
Tax Assessor—N. I. Tooms.
City Clerk—Paul F. Price.
Treasurer—Frank B. Arnold.
City Physician—W. K. Nesbit.
City Engineer—F. D. Rash.
Street Commissioner—Robt. Wood.
Councilmen—Jno. B. Atkinson,
Madison Oldham, H. C. Bourland,
L. H. O'Brien, Geo. C. Atkinson,
Thos. Blair. Meeting night first
Monday night in each month.
School Trustees—Paul M. Moore,
Dan M. Evans, W. R. Coyne.
Board of Health—Dan M. Evans,
Jno. X. Taylor, Curtis B. Johnson,
M. D.
Postmaster—Eliza Robinson.

LODGES.

Masonic Lodge—E. W. Turner,
No. 548 meets 1st. and 3rd. Fridays in each month.
CHAS. COWELL, Sec.

Victoria Lodge, No. 84, K. of P., meets every Monday night.
Visitors welcome.

TREO. WATTS, Sec.
Hopkins Lodge, A. O. U. W. No.
561 meets every Thursday night.
Y. Q. WALKER, Sec.

Golden Cross Lodge, Earlington,
No. 525 meets 1st. and 3rd. Saturday night in each month.
MRS. M. B. LONG, Sec.

Degree of Honor, No. 10 meets 2nd and 4th Saturday nights in each month.
MISS LIZZIE HUFF, Sec.

Ben Hur Lodge, Earlington
Count, No. 55 meets every Wednesday night except 4th.
WM. PERRY, Sec.

Standwaite, Tribe No. 57, Red Men
meets every Friday night.
CLAUDE LONG, Sec.

Modern Woodmen of the World,
No. 11992 meets every Wednesday.
Y. Q. WALKER, Sec.

Club Kentuck open all hours.
Business meeting 2nd Tuesday in each month.
C. L. ASHBY, Sec.

Elks, B. P. O. No. 738 meets at Madisonville Monday night.
Jas. E. Franeaway, Secy.

Visiting members are cordially invited to attend any of these Lodges.

CHURCHES.

CATHOLIC CHURCH.—First mass
every Sunday and holy day at 7:00 a.m. Second mass and preaching
9:30 a.m. Vespers and benediction 7 p.m. Rev. J. P. McParland, Pastor.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH.—Sunday-school at 9:30 a.m. Preaching every Lord's day at 10:45 a.m. and 7 p

m. Prayer meeting every Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. Elder W. G.
Eldred, pastor.

M. E. CHURCH.—Regular services third Sunday at 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m.
Prayer meeting Wednesday evening at 7:30. Sunday-school at 9:30 a.m.
Class meeting, second Sunday at 10:30 a.m. Rev. J. H. Embry, pastor
Epworth League—W. S. Bramwell, president. Meets every Sunday evening at 6:45 p.m. at the Methodist Episcopal Church, South.
All are welcome.

M. E. CHURCH, SOUTH.—Rev. J.
D. Fraser, pastor. Services on every Sunday at 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m.
Sunday school at 9:30 a.m.
Prayer meeting every Monday night
at 7:30. Rev. C. H. Grignon, Pastor.

MISSIONARY BAPTIST CHURCH —
Preaching the fourth Sunday at 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. and the preceeding Saturday night. Church meeting
Saturday night before the 4th Sunday. Sunday school at 9:30 a.m.
Prayer meeting every Monday night
at 7:30. Rev. C. H. Grignon, Pastor.

GENERAL BAPTIST CHURCH.—
Services Saturday night before the first Sunday in each month at 7:30 p.m., first Sunday at 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. Prayer meeting Friday evening at 7:30. Rev. Bumpus, pastor.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH—REG-ULAR services first Thursday at 7:30 p.m. and third Sunday at 3:30 p.m. in each month. Sunday school each Sunday morning at 9:30 o'clock.

Episcopal Church—Regular services every Tuesday night at the City Library, at 7:45 p.m. Public cordially invited to attend.

GEO. C. ABEITT, Rector.

Pharaoh's Mummy.

Pharaoh's mummy has been discovered and unfolded, and the eyes of readers of these pages can rest on the very features on which the eyes of Moses looked 3,000 years and more ago.

Useless Worry.

It frequently happens that a woman worries a great deal over the question of calling on another woman who doesn't care in the least whether she calls or not.—Chicago Record-Herald.

Saying of a Sage.

"Enemies is unsatisfactory. When a friend abuses ye, he means it; but when a enemy praises ye, he doesn't mean it."

No Place for a Picnic.

A Siamese jungle is described as a forest of fish hooks and knives laced together with barbed wire.

Perfumery

We have the most complete line of Perfumery, Toilet Articles, Soaps, etc., in the city of Earlington. Also

Paints

Varnishes, Cutlery, Drugs,
Medicines and everything carried in a first-class drug store. Our Prescription Department is complete. Prescriptions filled promptly and accurately by the most competent men the times afford.

St. Bernard Mining Co.,

Incorporated

Drug Department.

Some Big Bargains in Our Cloak and Suit Department

As is our annual custom at this season of the year when all Cloak and Suit factories are closing out their Fall and Winter stocks, our Mr. Dulin went to New York where he could look the market over and get the cream of the lots being offered and with the spot cash to pay for them he secured many values that are without a doubt the best ever. The materials, the superb touch of style and the broad range of choice, makes this sale one which no woman can afford to miss.

We are doing the cloak and suit business of the town and we built it up by the timely purchase and sale of choice garments at under-value prices. Mr. Dulin, who has just returned from New York, is happy to tell our patrons that he secured more fine snappy garments in Ladies', Misses' and Children's Cloaks and in Ladies' Suits and at bigger discounts than ever before. The discounts ranging from 10 to 40 percent.

Our saving is your saving, we have marked them out at the same big discounts that we have received. The price and discount marked in plain figures on every garment.

We Can Here Mention Only a Few of the Lots Secured

One fine lot of sample cloaks, no two alike and $10.00 to $25.00 at 33 1-3 per cent discount.

One Extra lot of Plush and Velvet Cloaks Finer than we can afford to buy at regular prices, but the discount makes them as cheap as cloth.

One big lot of Suits worth $35, $25 and $20
at 20 per cent discount.

This makes a saving of from $4.00 to $7.00 on your Suit.

We have been selling every day this season a splendid $10.00 cloak. Numbers of customers have told us they could not match it at $12.50. The manufacturer had 85 of them in black, castor and red. We closed the lot at 20 per cent discount, so you can now buy this fine $10 cloak for $8.00.

Dulin & McLeod

Madisonville,

Kentucky